

NEC Charter

Take control of covert intelligence

For more effective investigations that keep everyone safe

Combining a single view with a wide search

Trusted by police forces for more 20 years, NEC Charter gives SIOs a single, cohesive view of all the activities, linkages and intelligence related to their investigation.

Its unique capability allows the simultaneous search of multiple resource within a force or region, with all results filtered through the highest level of security. This means it can return highly confidential data not traditionally available through other search and analysis tools.

Helping you prevent and detect crime

Our Covert Data Warehouse gathers intelligence from sources and undercover operatives, covert operations, surveillance and TSU activities, communications and open source data, as well as surveillance in prisons, so that officers can be more effective in detecting and preventing crime.

This intelligence-sharing capability can also be extended across regions and partnerships, helping you analyse a wider pool of intelligence and identify linkages and trends in criminal activities.

Discover the power of covert intelligence data

Covert intelligence data collection, dissemination and analytics

NEC Charter helps law enforcement organisations to detect and prevent crime through effective covert management solutions, collaborative working and secure information sharing.
